

Message from the Headteacher

We are at the middle of the Spring Term and time seems to be flying by. Statutory assessments take place throughout the summer term and the year groups taking these are preparing and practising some of these key skills. Please make sure they are completing any homework their teacher has set as it is essential children get ample opportunity to practice what they learn in class.

While walking around school this week, I have noticed that quite a few children have not returned from half-term with the correct PE kit. PE Kit is an essential part of the school uniform and pupils need to change into these so they can safely take part in PE sessions with all their classmates. I hasten to add that this also includes the correct shoes, as these help pupils to participate in various physical activities.

It was lovely to see so many of our Reception parents yesterday, at the 'Reading with your child' session. Those of you who attended, I hope you found the session useful and informative and took back some ideas with you. The children were delighted to see their parent in school and enjoyed this opportunity to read with them. Reading is a life skill and helps to keep the mind and body stimulated. We aim to impart within our pupils a lifelong love for reading – so please try and take a few minutes from your day and read together with your child.

Warm Regards

Iman Basu Roy

Ealing Music Services

Next Wednesday (28th February), 5 Ealing Secondary Schools will be competing at Encore -our battle of the bands.

The standard is always exceptionally high and this year we have Elthorne Park, Ealing Fields, Greenford High, Drayton Manor High and Featherstone High trying to win the top prize of £500 for their school music department.

As this will be extremely inspiring to any young musicians, and very entertaining to watch – we are offering free entry this year to Ealing Primary School children and families or staff, just turn up and you can get your free tickets on the door.

Encore is @ ECC Theatre, Northfields Avenue at 19:30 (doors open @19:00) for more information visit Encore – Ealing Music Service – the event will also be 'livestreamed' on the EMS Facebook page

World Book Day: 7th March

Story in a Container Competition

Please use a shoebox or a plastic jar.

Entries to come into school from Monday 5th March.

Dress up as your favourite storybook character!

We would love to see as many different characters as possible on Wednesday 7th March. Do make sure that these come from a book rather than a film!
