

Message from the Headteacher

Today is the last day of the spring term, and what a busy term it has been for our children, parents and staff. I am sure you are all looking forward to a relaxing holiday, so you can spend time with your family and friends.

Even though this term has been short, there have been multiple class trips and workshops to support the children's learning. These are vitally important for the children because they put their classroom learning into real life experiences. We also appreciate all of the parents who support on these trips, as they would not be able to go ahead without you.

As a school, we regularly have our governing body and external validators come to the school, and this term has been no different. What all of our visitors have commented on each of the visits, has been the behaviour and attitude to learning that all of our children possess and demonstrate, and how respectful they are to each other, to staff, and to our outside visitors. It was also commented how engaged our children are with their work, and how our children in the early years foundation stage participate in meaningful and purposeful play.

Over the last two days, the school has been full of parents coming in and out for our two parent evenings. This time is where you got to hear all of your child's strengths in learning and what they will be working towards in the summer term. A huge thank you for coming in and supporting your child's learning - it is a special time for you to see how well your child is doing at school.

As we do at the end of each term, we had our end of term prize giving assembly this morning. The awards were for problem solving in maths, being a good role model, and being a reading hero. The children across the school were given a book for their age range, so please do read and share a love of reading with your child if they won a prize today.

At the start of the summer term, we will be starting our outdoor learning project. We are incredibly lucky to have the grounds that Vicar's Green was built on - and the children across the school will have the opportunity to engage in outdoor learning. These opportunities for outdoor learning will benefit our children with their connections with nature, mental and physical health, social skills and their cognitive problem solving. Please do look out for this on our return.

If you are one of our families observing Ramadan at this time, we wish you and your family a blessed Eid which will fall in the holidays.

I wish everyone a happy Easter break and look forward to seeing the children back on Monday 15th April.

Kind Regards,

Iman Basu Roy
